

Reeshemah Davis

Senior Management of Leadership Development
YMCA of the USA

Reeshemah L. Davis is a Senior Manager, Leadership Development for the YMCA of the USA, Talent & Knowledge Management Department. She recently joined the Leadership Development team in September 2017 which designs, develops, facilitates and oversees talent-management systems and leadership-development solutions for Y leaders at various stages of career progression. Additionally, in late 2018, Ms. Davis joined the Multicultural Leadership Department overseeing the Multicultural Executive Career Advancement (MECA) program.

Prior to joining Y-USA, Ms. Davis was the Vice President of Operations/Community Development for the YMCA of Metropolitan Fort Worth, Texas. Ms. Davis played an instrumental role in creating community relationships and collaborative ventures to lay the foundation for a new $13M facility serving the diverse community of Southeast Fort Worth. She has served as the Executive Director of the Marysville/North County YMCA in Marysville, Washington and previously was Executive Director at the Buchanan YMCA in San Francisco, California.

With approximately 19 years of non-profit management experience, Ms. Davis continues to have a passion for leadership development and effecting change within communities. Her focus remains on fostering quality relationships in a collaborative spirit as she works with YMCA leaders and volunteers across the country.

Ms. Davis has a 16-year-old daughter and lives in Arlington, Texas.
