District Executive Director
YMCA of Metropolitan Dallas

Rodrigua Ross currently serves as the District Executive Director of the Park South Branch and Diversity and Inclusion for the YMCA of Metropolitan Dallas. She has been with the YMCA for over 20 years both in Dallas and in Massachusetts. She believes firmly in the YMCA's mission of putting Christian values into practice through programs that build healthy spirit, mind, and body for all.

She strives to be an advocate for children and families in under resourced, marginalized, and access deficient communities. To that end she has collaborated with government entities, public and private nonprofit agencies, and corporate partners nationwide to address issues such as youth development program deficiencies, improving family stability, increasing access in low income communities, poverty, and reducing social stigmas associated with "at- risk" populations.

She holds a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and Masters of Business Administration with a focus on Strategic Leadership. She is a local and YUSA trainer in a number of different courses, and has her own nonprofit based out of Brooklyn NY. She is the wife of Dr. Iman Ross, and a mother of three Asha, Azeem and Ameer. In her free time she is a shoe enthusiast.
